This is your forum.

Most people have a common sense feel for what is and what is not appropriate in these forums.

We do, however, need to have a few set policies for everyone to refer to when the need arises.

You agree not to post any abusive, obscene, vulgar, slanderous, hateful, threatening, sexually explicit material or any other material that may violate any applicable laws.

This includes racial or homophobic slurs.

Doing any of this may lead to you being temporarily or permanently excluded from this forum.

You acknowledge that all posts made to this forum express the views and opinions of the author and not the AUE.

If you continue to break this code of conduct your account would be reviewed and you could be excluded.

Posting Policy

Respect

Be respectful of all users at all times. This means please use etiquette and politeness.

If you do this the rest of the code of conduct won't need more than a cursory mention.

Profanity

Remember that the forum is used by people of all age groups and of all tolerance levels regarding profanity usage.

Please keep your language polite and courteous and refrain from using profanities.

Under no circumstances will we allow any profanity to be directed toward another user.

Adult Content/Violence/Criminal Activity

Messages containing sexually oriented/violent/criminal dialogue, images, content, or links to these things will constitute a serious breach of this code of conduct

Communication

Please strive to communicate with other users as effectively as possible:

When writing a post, please space paragraphs with a blank line in between them for better readability.

Please do not write posts in all UPPERCASE letters.

Please refrain from using "leet" speak or slang.

Please do not shorten all your words to acronyms or abbreviations. It is very difficult to read and understand, especially for those members for whom English is their second or even third language.

Typos and other errors can cause miscommunication between users on the forums, please preview your text before posting.

JISCMail Code of Conduct

Please do not cross post.

Please attempt to keep your postings understandable.

Posting in tOgGLE cAsE is not permitted.

Images and URL's

Please be prudent in your use of images.

When posting pictures, please keep your image to less than 100kb.

No more than 5 URLs can be posted per comment (images and links).

This is to prevent spam. In these cases, if you have multiple pictures to post, it's acceptable to post more than 1 comment in a row.

Subject line

Please make the subject/topic line of any new post descriptive and informative, so people looking at the title will have some idea what it's about.

No "me too" posts, or posts just to increase your post count. Please think before posting. Do you actually have something to add to the discussion, or are you just saying "me too".
